Description of review activities, results, and conclusions:

Review of HPO quad maps, HPOweb GIS mapping, historic designations roster, and indexes was conducted on 8/22/13. Based on this review, there are no NR, SL, DE, LL or SS properties within the Area of Potential Effects (APE). Alexander County property and tax records were reviewed which revealed one property within the APE over the age of fifty years old, an early twentieth century farm complex in rural Alexander County. The house appears to be somewhat altered according to Google Street View imagery but it is not clear. It is unclear whether this property would be eligible for the NRHP, therefore a survey was needed to assess its condition and significance and how project activities might affect it.

The field survey was conducted on January 31, 2014. The early twentieth century farm complex property within the APE was documented and found to be highly altered—the side gabled one-and-one-half story frame house contained modern updates such as vinyl siding, an enclosed porch, modern windows and doors and a chimney addition. Outbuildings on the property were also heavily altered or were less than fifty years of age. Given the compromised integrity of the property, NCDOT Historic Architecture makes a “No Historic Properties Present/Affected” finding for this project.
