SUMMARY OF HISTORIC ARCHITECTURE AND LANDSCAPES REVIEW

Description of review activities, results, and conclusions:

Review of HPO quad maps, HPOweb GIS mapping, historic designations roster, and indexes was conducted on 8/27/13. Based on this review, there are no existing NR, SL, LD, DE, or SS properties in the Area of Potential Effects (APE). Built in 1961, Bridge No. 15 has not been evaluated for listing to the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) according to the NCDOT Historic Bridge Inventory; however, it appears to be a standard bridge design of no outstanding architectural or architectural significance according to Google Street View. Burke County GIS mapping and property records did not provide year-built dates for its GIS parcels. According to Google maps, it appears that there are no properties over the age of fifty years old within the project APE or any that possess the architectural or historical significance needed to merit consideration for eligibility to the NRHP. The APE lies south of Connelly Springs in rural Burke County and consists of mostly wooded areas dotted with patches of farmland and residences. Thus, a survey is not required for this project.

Why the available information provides a reliable basis for reasonably predicting that there are no unidentified significant historic architectural or landscape resources in the project area:

HPO quad maps, HPOweb GIS mapping, Google Street View, Google maps and Burke County property records are considered valid tools for the purposes of determining the likelihood of historic resources being present. A survey is not required for this project.
