The map illustrates a complex highway interchange in Columbus, Ohio. The interchange is centered around State Route 26 (SR 26) and State Route 108 (SR 108). SR 26 enters from the west and splits into two paths: one leading north towards the interchange and another leading south. SR 108 enters from the south and splits into two paths: one leading west towards the interchange and another leading east. The interchange features a diamond configuration with multiple ramps connecting the two highways. Local streets and roads are also shown, including F.C.A., Houston, 51, 50, 50 Mills, 55, 63, 67, 1137, 1149, and 1534. The map is labeled 'COLUMBUS' at the bottom.
